ABOUT GGE

Girls for Gender Equity (GGE) is an intergenerational, advocacy organization committed to the physical, psychological, social, and economic development of girls and women. Through direct services, policy and organizing, and culture change, GGE challenges structural forces -- racism, sexism, transphobia, homophobia, economic inequality -- that work to constrict the freedom, full expression, and rights of trans and cis girls and young women of color and gender non-conforming youth of color.

Since 2002, GGE has established a dual approach to community-based advocacy and direct service that develops youth leadership and strengthens resources within the communities we serve through our three core programs – the Sisters in Strength (SIS), Urban Leaders Academy (ULA), and the Young Women’s Advisory Council (YWAC). Within our approach, GGE targets New York City public schools based in underserved communities of color as sites to mobilize and collectively work toward gender, race and class equity. GGE also embraces a range of participatory processes to center the needs of cis and trans young women and gender nonconforming youth of color locally and nationally.
